

Siso Software Coronavirus (COVID-19) Statement

In light of the global threat from COVID-19 Coronavirus and recommendations provided from the World Health Organization (WHO), Siso is taking a new approach to meetings.

The well-being of our teammates and customers is our top priority, so we have decided to cease any onsite or face-to-face meetings until further notice to help limit the spread of COVID-19.

We are keeping a close eye on events and government advice:

This policy will go into effect immediately, and will remain in place until it is deemed safe by WHO, the NHS and the UK government.

During this time our service will remain active as usual, and we are also contactable via phone, email and our Support Portal – siso.co.uk/support.

We have taken measures to protect ourselves thus enabling us to provide a continued service to our customers. These contingencies include the option to work from home, staggered work schedules and social distancing plus additional safety and cleaning steps to help protect and support our teammates.

From everyone here at Siso we wish yourself and your close ones well in these uncertain times.
